Young Artists To Perform With Valley Symphony

Musician Jesse Rend, BYU man will appear as one of youth artists with the Utah Valley Symphony Orchestra in its concert Wednesday, at 8:15 in the Provo Tabernacle. The five youth winners, selected with a total of 21 aspirants in auditions last March. Rend, a student of Professor B. Ford of the Music Dept., will be the first movement of the art Concerto for bassoon. The other four youth artists, coming from Provo and St.

Francis High Schools, are also students of BYU music professors. They include Darius Claudia Dayton, a student of Professor Theodore Wight, pianist Bill Brown, student of Professor Robert B. Smith, violinist Cynthia Vance, student of Professor David Dalton, and Steven Goodman, student of Professor A. Harold Goodman. The concert begins and concludes with favorite orchestral compositions from Wagner, the prelude to Act III of "Lohengrin" and the overture to "Tannhauser."

CONDUCTED BY Dr. A. Harold Goodman, the orchestra includes in its membership faculty members from six departments of the university and wives of ten other faculty members. A city-wide organization, the orchestra draws members from nine Utah County communities.

Final Assembly...

Elder Monson To Speak At Devotional

Elder Thomas S. Monson, a member of the Council of Twelve Apostles, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will speak Tuesday at the final Devotional Assembly of the 1964-65 school year.

ELDER MONSON served as president of the Church's Canadian Mission from 1959 to 1962. Prior to that time he served in the presidency of the Temple View Stake in Salt Lake City, and as a bishop in that Stake.

He attended Salt Lake public schools and graduated from the University of Utah in 1949.

AFTER RECEIVING his degree in business from the University, Elder Monson became associated with the Deseret News, Church-owned daily newspaper in Salt Lake City. He later became associated with the Deseret News Press, a commercial printing firm and at the time of his appointment to the Council of the Twelve, he was serving as manager of that firm.

Elder Monson has held membership in the Utah Association of Sales Executives and the Salt Lake Advertising Club. He is a past president of the Printing Industry of Utah, and a former member of the Board of Directors of the Printing Industry of America.

HE WAS NAMED to the Council of Twelve Apostles, October 4, 1963, filling a vacancy created by the appointment of Nathan Eldon Tanner as Second Counselor in the First Presidency.

Destructive Tornadoes Rip Through Nebraska Towns

PRIMROSE, NEB. (AP)—A cloth of tornadoes—possibly 20 or more—stitched a pattern of destruction across Nebraska Saturday night, leaving four dead and at least 12 injured in their wake.

ABOUT 150 safety patrolmen and national guardsmen fanned out from four locations today checking damaged areas, searching for unreported casualties and safeguarding the scattered possessions of displaced residents.

Gov. Frank Morrison, who had maintained an emergency headquarters in the Governor's Mansion throughout the night, toured the area by plane after daylight.

Dr. Reid Nibley...

Pianist To Be Featured With Combined Concert

Dr. Reid Nibley, pianist, will be featured artist for the Oratorio Choir Concert Band and Wind Symphony combined concert Monday in the Harris Fine Arts Center, Forces Hall, at 8:15 p.m.

TICKETS FOR THE Concert may be obtained at no charge from the Fine Arts Ticket Office F-363.

Robert Manockin, director of the BYU music and humanities library, will see the premier performance of his "Psalm VIII" during the program. Several of Manockin's other compositions have been featured on various musical performances.

Tito Warns Of Dangers To Peace

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA. (AP)—President Tito warned yesterday of new dangers to peace and compared the world situation now with that before World War II.

BEFORE WATCHING a big parade celebrating the 20th anniversary of V-E Day, Tito declared in a television statement that 20 years after victory, the joy of peoples is marred by great concern for world peace. "When Hitler and Mussolini forged their devilish plans... they always used slogans of alleged communist danger. Today, 20 years after the defeat of the dark forces of Fascism, we are again facing great dangers. The world is on the brink of a new war catastrophe. Protagonists of force and terror are using today the same or similar slogans, frightening the world again with an alleged communist danger."

"TWENTY YEARS AGO the peoples of the world believed that something similar to what it experienced during the Fascist aggression can not repeat... but forces of aggression and policies of force are showing up in new forms and we have at present examples which are very similar to the ones which preceded World War II."

ALL THE deaths and most of the injuries occurred when one tornado grinding along northeastward veered suddenly to the north and slashed a 300-yard-wide swath down the tree-line, unpaved main street of Primrose, a village of 129 persons 10 miles west of Omaha.

"It was such a pretty town," said Mrs. John Leslie. But by daylight the only trees in the path of the Tornado were mangled, jagged splinters thrusting above the rubble. Most of the trees were ground to matchsticks and blown away.

GILBERT MCCBRIDE, 47, said the tornado seemed to pass by, then turn back and snatch his home off its foundation. The parents of six of the children were found in the shattered house.

Only five of 14 buildings in the business section of Primrose remained standing; about 20 dwellings were demolished and 18 to 20 others so badly damaged, they probably cannot be salvaged, the Nebraska Safety Patrol Reported.

GEORGE ADAMS, 73-year-old son-in-law of one of the founders of Primrose, was discouraged. "This town, like other small towns, was dying, but the tornado sealed the coffin," he said. "It can't be rebuilt."

The series of tornadoes, which invaded more than a score of communities and destroyed at least 100 farmsteads, moved into Neb. near Hebron on the Kansas border, then bounced along a northeast course clear across the state. The band of scattered destruction covered most of the eastern half of Nebraska.

The U.S. Weather Bureau estimated at least 20 tornadoes ripped down within a radius of 100 miles of Norfolk, which lies 120 miles northeast of Omaha.

Scholarship News Sought For Graduation Report

President Wilkinson has asked the BYU students who have received scholastic grants to attend other institutions during 1965-66 and succeeding school years, be recognized in the coming Commencement Program, according to Lester B. Whetten, director of University Relations.

DIRECTOR WHETTEN requests that the deans of the colleges, department chairmen, and faculty members assist the Office of University Publications in compiling this information.

The name of the student, type of grant, school awarding the grant, and the amount of the grant should be sent as soon as possible to the Office of University Publications, C-341 Smoot Administration Bldg.
